

This book offers the assessment of Myanmar's societal changes, development aspects, and political situation over the course of the nation's short lived democratic transition disrupted by the coup d'état on 1 February 2021. A multitude of authors with different expertise add new dimensions of analysis to provide a foundation for any future international cooperation in Myanmar's center and peripheries. The chapters probe into Myanmar's transition and political crisis through in-depth discussion on the issues such as, but not limited to, state fragility, community resilience, political leadership, ethnic women's organizations, human security, education equality, IDPs and non-state actors, ethnic community-based health organizations, the 2020 election, peace process, development issues, the coup's destruction, and a new-born unity. The contributors highlight the state of Myanmar by also focusing on the margins and at the grassroots. The editors present this volume as a vital collection to literature at a time of Myanmar's political crisis.

Chosein Yamahata is a professor at Aichi Gakuin University. He coordinates the Academic Diplomacy Project, under which he co-edited Social Transformations in India, Myanmar, and Thailand: Social, Political and Ecological Perspectives. He is a visiting professor at Chiang Mai University's Faculty of Mass Communication and teaches at Thammasat University's MAPS.

Bobby Anderson is a Research Fellow at Chiang Mai University's School of Public Policy, where he studies the historical impact of opium eradication programs. He is a project manager, policy adviser, a lifelong student of political economy and ethnography, and a specialist in community development, governance, markets, conflict, and crime.

palgrave
macmillan

ISBN 978-981-16-6674-2

9 789811 666742

www.palgrave.com